Hey team – this is our reply from Stella Jones’ counsel – we are in negotiations on the CSI – I am very encouraged that we can work out language and get the CSI to “fly” – I’m just glad it’s not dead!

RE: Cooperative Sustainability Initiative – Cities of Alexandria and Pineville

Dear Ms. Fagan and Mr. Przyborski:

I have been retained by Kisatchie Treating, LLC in connection with the pending Cooperative Sustainability Initiative. As environmental counsel, I have reviewed the January 14, 2015 draft agreement previously provided to Kisatchie for comment. I understand that you have asked for edits to the draft agreement by March 26. In order to respond on behalf of Kisatchie, I have endeavored to develop information concerning the proposed Cooperative Sustainability Initiative and have a number of questions for EPA which we feel need to be answered prior to providing any detailed comments on the proposed agreement. Kisatchie wishes to cooperate with your effort; however, the answers to the attached questions are critical to our ultimate decision as to whether to participate.

As this matter moves forward, I would request that you direct your future communications to me on this matter. I will endeavor to provide prompt replies and look forward to future discussions. In that regard, I am informed that you are trying to set up a webinar, which we are interested in knowing more about, particularly if it will serve to provide more information concerning the initiative.
